LEJOG Day 7: Wolves-Thornbury

23 Jun 2016

Putting on the warpaint. Having forgotten my suntan cream somewhere up in Scotland, I've had to improvise. With Sudocrem.

ATLAS

Took the Staffordshire Canal out of Wolves - I can see now why they call it The Black Country. Stopped in Shipston-on-Stour for morning tea

On via Worcester to Upton-on-Severn for a lovely riverside lunch. All very busy there with the impending jazz festival...and the EU Referendum Slimbridge Wildfowl Centre. World famous evidently. However, we'd gone off route so...bovvered?!
